

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The Fund seeks capital appreciation.

ABOUT THE FUND

The Quantified Pattern Recognition Fund seeks out daily patterns in the stock market that have been found to be determinative of probable future price direction. Markets can reflect human emotions. Investors may adopt patterns of behavior in response to those emotions. The strategy seeks out high probability, repeatable patterns in the S&P 500 Index or other equity indexes to identify periods to buy, use leverage, or go short (or inverse) to the equity market.
